At our Nov. meeting Charles Walked did a demo on how to make a lamp. Showed off a Floor lamp and several table style lamps. Good job done by Charles.
Our members that showed up brought a great display of their crafts that they had turned. Darn good job.
Big discussion on upcoming events and election of new officers.
President Dave is stepping down.
11 members present at meeting.

NEWS

You all remember those chairs we worked on to redo parts and pieces. The members put a lot of time into them and they sold for $ 300 bucks. Not bad. That put $ 180.00 into the kitty.

Dec 7 & 8th Upcoming is the Glynn Art Mistletoe Mart. Dec 7 & 8th 10 am to 5 pm. IF you are bringing crafts to show and sell set up is Friday or early Saturday am depending on amount. Dave is setting up his tent and shelves on Friday pm. I am bringing a extra set of shelves like Daves. Any member can bring items for show / sale but must have a printed sheet with your name and price. Please mark your pieces with price. Those showing pieces for sale will share in cost of space. Booth space $ 220 / no commission charge. A lathe will be available for demos.. That will attract attention.

Dec 14th. Next as I repeat myself. Christmas party at Dave's Dec 14th starting at 5 pm. Meat supplied by club. Let your secretary know your favorite dish you are bringing. Need a attendance count soonest. We have one cheesecake, appetizer, and one left overs Need new officers elected at the December meeting. Need President and Vice President. Gerald will continue as treasure. Craig will continue as sec for one more year.

Dec 15th Jekyll Island. Merry Artist demo Sunday 1-4 pm Items for sale at the Jekyll show must be registered thru JIAA and you must be a member. jekyllartists.com
Anything they sell a 25% charge is applied.

The tools (equipment) that was donated to us will be advertised and sold thru internet. These were donated items that members have cleaned up so can be sold. Pictures when available.
Radial arm saw, jointer/planer

AAW has a drawing for a scholarship to Arrowmount or Campbell Folkschool that we can send in one nominee??

Anyone interested in thinning epoxy,, mix with acetone.. quick and easy.. Been doing that fore years

Charles Walker gets a big thank you for inviting the members to his shop for a show and tell on how to make a lamp. The turning part is easy but when it comes to drilling that hole for the wire run its a bit more tricky.

Here is a floor lamp he made. I am sure he did that in sections as to finding a drill bit that long would be possible but getting it to drill straight,,, um difficult.

Gerald looks on in dismay.

A lamp spindle tuned and ready to go. Well it was ready to go till he drilled the wire run. Darn drill bit did not go straight and if you click on this picture to blow up You can see the Charles is pointing to a spot on spindle that the drill bit came out sideways.. Darn

Charles set up on the lathe with thru hole drilling from either end. Looks simple right??? But let me tell you as I watched its not all that easy.

But we all commented on how in heck he has such a clean shop..

Barb and Jim get hands on as Charles uses a hand bit drill.

Then he used his electric drill bit. So much easier. Pictured below is the finished piece and another lamp

President Dave presides over his last meeting of the year. A new president will take over in January. 11 members present at this Nov. meet.

Brag and Show

Ken Mattie

A pine platter with distressing around the outside edge. Done with a Chain saw. weeeeeee. Then burnt and cut down on the lathe again. Pretty neat.

Here Ken shows off a chunk of Pine he found on side of road. Near 18 in or better in diameter. Used epoxy to strengthen the wood.

A close up of the piece. Very nicely done but I am sorry I got his hand into the photo.

Barb Hahn

Camphor

Cryptomeria wood????

Flame Box Elder

Jerry Gafford

end grain pine

Magnolia

Dave Loehle

It makes me dizzy looking at this.
First all the design and second to cut it let alone to glue all back together.

Both of these are maple and walnut.

Todd Tetterton

Todd Tetterton shows off his platters with unique edging and his bottle stoppers

Mahogany with inlay of mother of pearl epoxied onto the edge. Very nice

Opposite picture is turquoise inlay on maple

Cherry bowl with green colored epoxy laid over with SALT. WHOA,,, A neat idea bottle stoppers
