

Rulon International has already made hundreds of guitars. Volunteers have begun designing creative guitar designs with paint and stickers. The options and possibilities are almost endless. A child can design their own guitar or they can receive an already completed guitar made by one of the many volunteers who help bring a little joy to a child's life!

Guitars
for Children

Rulon International has embarked on a mission to spread a little joy to hospitalized and struggling children throughout the U.S.

Many children that have been dealing with life threatening illnesses face continuous days of struggling with adversity. In the hopes of adding just a little bit of joy, Rulon has committed to making wooden box guitars to be distributed to these children.

These guitars come in 5 standard shapes along with assembly instructions and strings. In addition, stickers and decals are also included so that a child can personalize their very own guitar.
