GREETINGS WOODWORKERS

I felt the Jekyll show was very successful. I believe most everyone who entered items sold something. I am very happy about that as I think it is very encouraging when you realize people like what you do and are willing to pay for it.

I had to take a vacation from turning in October so my injured finger had a chance to heal. Plus, I made a quick trip up North to check on my older brothers. I was anxious to get back and start turning again.

As we approach 2016, the Presidents and I would like to encourage all of the members to provide input on what you want to see in demos and projects for the upcoming year.

We have been so distracted with the show, that time has gotten away from us. It is November already and time for us to think about what we want to do for our Christmas party. Please bring your suggestions on that to our meetings this month.

And, don't forget that there are only a few weeks remaining to use your imagination and creativity to compete for one of two $100 gift certificates to Woodcraft by following the published rules for the 2" x 4" Contest. This is for members only. If you have lost your contest rules and want to participate, please let me know and I will e-mail them to you. There will be one certificate for turners and one for woodworkers. The contest entries will be judged at the Christmas party.

President's Message

GOLDEN ISLES WOODWORKERS

The show is over! All in all, I think it was a great show. Once again, we had a terrific turnout for our opening reception. The members received numerous compliments on their artistic ability and craftsmanship. Our workbench was more often viewed by the crowd as a piece of furniture than a functional tool for woodworking. Many of our members that participated had sales and some of the members had multiple sales.

As the year winds down, don't forget our Great 2" x 4" Contest and discussion on our upcoming Christmas Party.

GOLDEN ISLES WOODTURNERS

The Jekyll show was great, even with the problems. I hope that the organizers learned a lot about their system, because I know that we did. It was a learning process for all of us as we saw the items which the public purchased.

I am really looking forward to another show in two years, if we are invited, and also to Roy Yarger's show in May of 2016.

Do not forget that the woodturning meeting will be with different people showing their ways of finishing their work. I have seen several of the items which will be presented and a lot are great. We learn more from each other.

Woodturner's Meeting

Monthly Meeting – Saturday, November 14, 2015 – 9 a.m. - This meeting will be held at Karen Grogan's shop, 112 Chad Circle, Shadowlake Subdivision, Brunswick, GA. This meeting will be on finishing your pieces. We ask that you participate and show us your method of finishing. We all have different methods and it is helpful to see how others perform the same task.

Woodworker's Meeting

Monthly Meeting – Tuesday, November 17, 2015 – 7:00 p.m. - This meeting will be held at Charles Walker's residence at 110 Winton Drive in Winton Farms off Hwy 17. The subject of the demo will be announced at a later time. We will be discussing our upcoming Christmas party.

MEMBERS' WORK

ROY YARGER
Ming Vase II – Rainbow Poplar
Norfolk Island Pine Hollow Vessel

ALAN WENDEL
This is an open shelf Alan made for his sister and brother-in-law. It is made out of maple plywood (leftovers from the workbench the club members made). It is finished in espresso. The backs of the shelves have extra cut outs to allow for all of the cords to be hidden.

CHUCK JACKSON'S
Natural Edge Bowl

BARB HAHN'S
Textured and Embellished Bowl
